

Edyta Górniak, Too late

Another love
Bites the dust tonight
Tears in my eyes
You forced my hand this time

I never thought I'd ever feel your knife
Twisted in my spine
A thousand tries with one goodbye

It's too late
You've done, what you've done
And here I stand in the shadows of the ones
you chose over me
I left with all of your lies
Time after time
how I've tried but it's your fault, not mine

It's hard to leave
When I gave all of me to you Still feel the sting of wearing your ring
Now, I know the truth

I never thought I'd ever feel your knife
Twisted in my spine
A thousand tries with one goodbye

It's too late
You've done, what you've done
And here I stand the shadows of the ones
You chose over me
I left with all of your lies
Time after time
How I try
but it's your fault, not mine

I've realized
you don't deserve my pain there's no more for you to take anyway

It's too late too late too late for you!
