

Eldritch, From Dusk Till Dawn

Cruel rays of light tear the dark inside

The new day on the town invades my mind

A crowd creeps in silence, taking hold of the roads

Where I was king 'til few hours before

It breathes the pollution and pisses gray

What they call life's death compared to what Night can give us

With all Her thieves and whores

... Night can give us and always does

We are all Kings, all Queens, not slaves

From dusk till dawn

Living to shine now

Living to shine

From dusk till dawn

We shine till dawn

Now Venus is rising to the west of Void

The old day on the town is fading out

A huge power swells inside of me as the mob of lost souls thins and turns to the cells

I watch the crowd there and feel mercy

All your dreams are nothing compared to what Night will give us

With all Her sins and love

... Night will give us a crown of thorns

We are all Kings, all Queens, not slaves

From dusk till dawn

Living to shine now

Living to shine

From dusk till dawn

We shine till dawn
