

Ella Eyre, Head In The Ground (feat. Tiggs Da Au

Head in the ground too long
Where did I leave my soul?
Where did I drop that ball? No one knows
Head in the ground too long
Where did I leave my soul?
Where did I drop that ball? No one knows

Ha! I been a bad, bad human being lately
I damn near lost my mind
I spent way too much time doing the wrong things, ha!
I been running round round the same old circles
I just can't find the joy
I run, hide and avoid
All the drama, all the trauma
With my

Head in the ground too long
Where did I leave my soul?
Where did I drop that ball? No one knows
Head in the ground too long
Where did I leave my soul?
Where did I drop that ball? No one knows

Got to get real comfortable with being uncomfortable, baby
I guess I got lazy, lazy, ahh!

Chase the gwolla, chase the cash
Walk alone the pavement cracks
Mama came and whooped my ass
'Cause I lost myself, won't lose the stash

Who want money, who want money yeah?
Being broke ain't that funny, yeah
'Member when we had nothing, yeah
'Member when we had nothing, yeah

All the roaches and mices were my friends
Got a TV, no licence
Corned beef with the rices
Crisis
My life is a shock, I hate surprises
I asked my grandma why this keeps happening
She said, "You had your head in the ground too long"

Your head in the ground too long
Where did I leave my soul?
Where did I drop that ball? No one knows
Head in the ground too long
Where did I leave my soul?
Where did I drop that ball? No one knows

Someone said I was high as shit
I was in my own world like a waste cadet
But guess what (What?)
It's not (No)
What I thought (Oh?)
Only one bitch with a key to the locks

Huh, I saw a sign like a blue bottle to a neon light
With my eyes closed, wings out and fly, yeah

Head in the ground too long
Where did I leave my soul?
Where did I drop that ball? No one knows

Head in the ground too long
Where did I leave my soul?
Where did I drop that ball? No one knows

Head in the ground too long
Where did I leave my soul?
Where did I drop that ball? No one knows
Head in the ground too long
Where did I leave my soul?
Where did I drop that ball? No one knows
