

Elton John, Always Love You (feat. Young Thug,

I will always love you
Even when I say I don't
I will always see you
Even when my eyes are closed
Uncertain of a lot of things
But with you, I've always known
I will always love you
I will always love you
I will always love you
Even if you let me go
Cryin' 'bout somebody, tell 'em
Somebody come pass an umbrella
Fuck these bitches, had to tell her
I had to take the call, pass the tella
I bought you Gucci, baby, Mais' Margiela
You can get a new one, but he won't be better
Straight to the top and don't need no propeller
Oh, I've been all outside with the fellas
Take me back, I can put you in control if you take me back
Good fella, roll in a new Maybach
She been fuckin' me good and I'm hooked like crack
Make sure you ballin', don't worry 'bout nothin'
You keep on goin' forward and never look back
You bring me love just like 7-Eleven
And just for that, I'ma give you some racks, let you splurge
Mama, what's the word?
All I do is flirt, let's do it like a verb
Takin' off your skirt, this the night I make you squirt
Pull up to the tele', watch me murk you with no dirt
Bet you never leave
I will always love you
Even when I say I don't
I will always see you
Even when my eyes are closed
Uncertain of a lot of things
But with you, I've always known (always known)
I will always love you (always)
I will always love you (love you)
I will always love you (love you)
Even if you let me go
(Even if you let me go)
Woo
I never thought you would end up as the enemy
I always thought you'd be right here, still defending me
I feel so bad for you, lost your identity
Made your decision, there's a penalty
It's so hard for me to understand (it's so hard for me to understand)
I guess the universe had different plans (I guess the universe had different plans)
I put my love
I put my love in your hands
In your hands
But that was so you
You had to leave, I had to go too
I could always tell that you had no clue
You never understood what I had to go through
But then I guess, somewhere deep inside we both knew
So the memories is what I'll toast to
'Cause in the past life when everything felt right
You used to know me (and I got to know you)
Once upon a time when we rolled out
But now, baby, oh, no, you sold out
I will always love you
Even when I say I don't (even when I say I don't)
I will always see you

Even when my eyes are closed
Uncertain of a lot of things
But with you, I've always known
I will always love you (always)
I will always love you (love you)
I will always love you (love you)
I will always love you (love you)
I will always love you (love you)
I will always love you (love you)
Even if you let me go
