

Elton John, Thank You For All Your Loving

Written by Elton John and Caleb Quaye
Never released

Oh pity me
I'm so alone and so blue
My friends have all gone away
Their friendliness too

It was I on my own
With no need to be alone
And I wanted to die
That's when you came along

And thank you for all of your loving
Thank you for all of your tears
Thank you for all of your kindness
Thank you for being here

What a difference it makes
My life has started again
And if you go away
It just won't be the same

It's hard to say what I feel
When I'm by your side
You're there when I'm worried
All my troubles in you I confide
