

Elvis Presley, What Now What Next Where To

Like a ship without a compass on a cold lonely sea
No beacon light of love to guide me through I lost the only treasure that means anything to me
What now, what next, where to?

I thought I had a love that would be mine eternally
I felt so sure you'd be forever true
Now everything I counted on has crumbled under you What now, what next, where to?

You were part of every dream I dreamed, of everything I planned How could I know our castles were built upon the sand Won't heaven send an angel please, to tell me what to do
What now, what next, where to?
What now, what next , where to?
