

Emeli Sandé, Oxygen

Too much small talk well my darling that's bad for our health
Turns your talk so small you'll turn into somebody else
Swimming in the shallow end really ain't getting us far
I want to know where you've been
Who you need, why you laugh, why you cry
I want to know who you are

So baby let's get deep
Whisper all our secrets under sheets
Take me where you visit in your dreams
Then kiss me hard like I'm your only oxygen
Oxygen

Now baby please
Let me wash my sins deep in your stream
Feels as if you're teaching me to breathe
Baby please stay close you are my oxygen
My oxygen

My mama said my baby please be careful with your heart
Thugs and thieves and wolves are lurking out there in their dark
I tried to live a life in fear but that didn't really get me far
I want to know who you are
Where you've been, what you need, how you love
I want to know who you are

So baby please get deep
Whisper all our secrets under sheets
Take me where you visit in your dreams
Then kiss me hard like I'm your only oxygen
Oxygen

Now baby please
Let me wash my sins deep in your stream
Feels as if you're teaching me to breathe
Baby please stay close you are my oxygen
My oxygen

I wanna be what you need, who you need
Whenever you need it I just wanna be there
I wanna be what you need, who you need
Whenever you need it I just wanna be there

I wanna be what you need, who you need
Whenever you need it I just wanna be there
I wanna be what you need, who you need
Whenever you need it I just wanna be there

And if you trust me with spirit
I will trust mine with you
If you fall from the building
I will hold on to you
If you kneel by the river, I will wash over you
I wanna be what you need, who you need
Whenever you need it I just wanna be there

So baby let's get deep
Whisper all out secrets under sheets
Take me where you visit in your dreams
Then kiss me hard like I'm your only oxygen
Oxygen