Emerson, Lake & Palmer, Eight Miles High

EIGHT MILES HIGH Written by Gene Clark/Roger McGuinn/David Crosby Revised by Keith Emerson/Robert Berry/Carl Palmer

8 miles high, and when you touch down No time can be stranger than now Signs on the street, and where are we going Out somewhere just 2 B alone

Nowhere near, what can be found Among us we can't lose more ground Time may tell, long though it sounds These places our faces abound

Out in square, lives covered in stone Some laughing most won't take stand Sidewalk of dreams, as far as one sees Some living some standing alone
