

Emo Side Project, Dog

As I wake up the morning
Air breezes my face
And I know just for once that I'm right in my place.
I look to the sky to embrace the sun's rays
And birds sing on branches, while I'm going to make
This dream become reality.
I feel like nothing could go wrong today, today.

And she wakes beside me
I knew that she would,
Whoever knew being a dog was this good.
It's all that I've known,
But it's all that I need.
A master to love me and sing me to sleep.

As I wake up the morning wind
Slams against my face,
As I face the facts and realize my place.
I'm only a small part of everyday life
And I wish I meant more, I wish I could fly..
This dream still a dream,
Life's not what it seems.
I feel like everything has gone wrong today, today.
