Emo Side Project, Dog

As I wake up the morning
Air breezes my face
And I know just for once that I'm right in my place.
I look to the sky to embrace the suns rays
And brids sing on branches, while I'm going to make
This dream become reality.
I feel like nothing could go wrong today, today.

And she wakes beside me I knew that she would, Whoever knew being a dog was this good. It's all that I've known, But it's all that I need.
A master to love me and sing me to sleep.

As I wake up the morning wind Slams against my face, As I face the facts and realize my place. I'm only a small part of everyday life And I wish I meant more, I wish I could fly.. This dreams still a dream, Lifes not what a seems. I feel like everything has gone wrong today, today.
