

Endeavor, Paul

No respect for life
with an underqualified input
into an issue that does not even apply to you.
What gives you the right to judge from safe suburbia,
unable to comprehend a dead end situation.
This world does not revolve around your upper middle class white ass.
Take a look out your window
there's tensions to be found.
One right taken away leads to another right
that you just might uphold
but it will be just that much easier for an outlaw
on your personal rights
but you'd rather just ride this Trojan horse.
Wire hanger sales are better than ever
with your right wing fascist inquisition.
(Down. Keep it down.)
I'm not buying what you're saying.
Potential life before the life itself?
It's you with no respect for life.
