Engerica, Roadkill

What lies can say, the truth must show Like fifteen kicks to my head It cuts right through a fierce tattoo But I don't want one

My first time was the worst time And I'll take the long road home It's not finding or timing It's learning that you were wrong

My dad says don't take chances Don't do drugs and don't trust fat kids You'll find out when you're older If I'm lying or if I've folded

It's not personal or irrational Or anything that you said it was Without meaning to sound deceiving You're everything that you're not

Shake your finger, shake your finger, shake it! Shake your finger, shake your finger, shake it! Shake your finger, shake your finger, shake your finger, shake it! Oh, oh, oh oh oh OH!

Liar liar, bursting tyres
Everything we set on fire
What you got, what you need
What you put inside of me
Whoa no here comes the funk
Everything down a tornado
Liars get fires set but I won't wait

You're disgusting You did a bad thing Now everything's all gone wrong It's not obsession, it's just affection A burning misery for no one

UH!
