

EnkElation, Last Time Together

I remember that night when you took away the light that kept our love alive
Like a fool I tried to find all the warmth you had inside but your eyes had grown so cold
Nothing but silence
Only the sound of my breaking heart

If this is our last time together I will pretend this love is forever
That way I'll always remember how this night would end next to never

After sunlight comes the rain, slowly washing dreams away
Leaving me with all my sorrow

Burning echoes on my mind, answers I was left to find on my own, should have known...
Nothing but memories
Over the sound of my breaking heart

If this is our last time together I will pretend this love is forever
That way I'll never remember the day you said goodbye
