

EnkElation, Tears of Lust

A voice that rang like a symphony
Held in beautiful asymmetry
To choose, to breathe, to sigh
Ignore the shadow that defies the light
Take me to the light

A vice that you will betray
A tattoo that won't go away
Etched in bone with heart's consent
Held in the mire with cold contempt
The light, reach into the light

The tears of lust, the silent cries
The heat that licks my skin, it takes me high
Release the sin, the whole within
Take me to the light, through the light

Sacred truth that you hold
Bring the chapter to a close
The tears of lust, tales to tell
To your soul, not mine to sell
It's the light, I can feel the light

The tears of lust, the silent cries
The heat that licks my skin, it takes me high
Release the sin, the whole within
Take me to the light, through the light

Take me to the light
Take me to the light, to the light

The tears of lust, the silent cries
The heat that licks my skin, it takes me high
Release the sin, the whole within
Take me to the light, through the light
