

Euphony Dismal, Lady Ablaze

We are the lanterns of grief
come forth and visit us
we have stories to tell
and knowledge to share

A calm of distant decay deep in absorbing shades
the heavens darken,
the oceans fall

The oceans of thoughts
the rivers of blood
cast into the star-less void

She stretches across
the rivers of blood
to wipe out my last vivid pictures

Alone
in this oblivious zone
a place of no return Eternity, I roam

Lady Ablaze
Dress me in flames
See me burn in shame
Were horrors breed on the light

She stretches across
the rivers of blood

We hear them come
we close our eyes and see them closing in they flash into our souls we see them shining through

Lady Ablaze
Dress me in flames
See me burn in shame

Dressed in fire
the lanterns of grief
when the horrors
they breed on the light oceans of thoughts
the rivers of blood
we are burning
in the deep of the night
