

Europe, Years

are there years between us?
have you seen me when I didn't see you?
its so good to know that someone can love me as much as I think you do... do I love you?
your a fool if you don't know or maybe i'm so good at hiding even the truth is hidden from you but somehow I doubt that your as smart as I could ever be but still my question remains is our love meant to be?
cause it feels too good to be true can someone love me so much more than I love myself is this all true?
does love resonate in your heart
like the songs say it does?
I can't even begin to believe my dreams
when they actually come true...
