Face To Face, Walk The Walk

I could be like you I could be alone and jaded wondering what to do until they say and I could be like you angry and intoxicated wondering what to do to make them pay Will I find a way (will I find another way) can I make them see (2x) and make them all believe you're wrong you're really wrong your good intentions don't belong, and I I hear you talk the talk but I don't see you walk the walk and I still don't believe a thing you say
