

Fifty Nutz, Muffin

Muffin

Don't be alarmed, take a ride down deception boulevard
In a moment you'll be cleared.
You should have kept your eyes open
Judy saw you looking and now watches you expire

Too soon to be gone, time's running a little short

The clock is screaming, hours in your ears
Truth is in the doorway
Time has spread some fear
Soon it'll all be O.K.

We know that if things
Were the other way around
We wouldn't have gone that far
I need to come and go
Without that feeling of emptiness
