

Fight!Fight!Fight!, Ie Me

This is how it feels to be on the way down and Im watching you from your bedroom window, wondering..

How do you feel now?

I never meant to disappoint you, no,
I never meant to do this to myself.

But this is how it goes and
I know I can not articulate it.

Ive never been too good with words.

And this is where it begins and

I know this is not the end.

This is not the end.

People say that were growing too fast.

When all we want has come and past.

Where will you hide,

when the cops come raiding the streets?

People say that were growing too fast.

When all we want has come and past.

Where will you hide,

when the cops come raiding the streets?

Days have passed, months maybe,

I have learned its easier not to keep track of time and Im exactly where I never meant to be.

Well, these are the best words that I have ever heard.

These are the best words, I just want to be sure.

Drop out in this good for nothing town and dream about how youre gonna sink it down.

No one gets out.

So get back in line.

People say that were growing too fast.

When all we want has come and past.

Where will you hide,

when the cops come raiding the streets?

People say that were growing too fast.

When all we want has come and past.

Where will you hide,

when the cops come raiding the streets?

I am working for this.

For every ounce of it.

And I know you know it, well I know you know.

So Ill pack my bags and boxes and I will leave.

And I know youre thinking, Way to disappoint, way to disappoint me.

People say that were growing too fast.

When all we want has come and past.

Where will you hide,

when the cops come raiding the streets?

And People say that were growing too fast.

When all we want has come and past.

Where will you hide,

when the cops come raiding the streets?

People say that were growing too fast.

When all we want has come and past.

Where will you hide,

when the cops come raiding the streets?

This is not the end.

This is not the end.
