

Fly To The Sky, Stay

On a day when the rain fell all day, with a dampened voice I asked you,
Why it can't be me, because I can't go a day without you.
I've never had a heartache like this before as I loved someone,
but it can't be done, even if you try to surpress the love.
You know too that it can't be stopped.
Baby you've been still in my live, even if its hard I'm going to smile.
Because I believe that you're going to return to my side someday.
Baby you've been still in my heart, even if I collapse from being worn out,
I'm going to head towards you with an eternal light.
I don't wish for much, just come as much as you can in a day.
Like that we'd probably meet sometime.
So that my long waitings don't loose to my tears, help me.
My sincere heart doesn't close yet. Do you not know?
Or is there someone that wants you more than I do?
Please just stay by my side, even if its hard I'm going to smile.
Because I believe that you're going to return to my side someday.
Baby you've been still in my heart, even if I collapse from being worn out,
I'm going to head towards you with an eternal light.
I hope that you understand how I feel about you and all I'm asking is, just stay
