Foals, Neptune

now it's time to go from the white wards of England where the crows line the rivers and roads

I wanna walk where I know through the olive groves he sky that knows my name it gave me away the magnolia moon like and eggshell a white bell it gave me away