

Force Majeure, Apocalyptic Hearts

In the land of ice and snow
40 years ago
The girl with auburn hair
The traveller

Her hair now is silver grey
The evening star will fade
Into everlasting dream
Of silence

Higher than angels the death takes our hearts

In loving memory
Of years that we had
The close of chapter tears with
Tender fangs

The soothing silence
When I lay by your side
The beating fades, together we'll
Fall asleep
You and me

A starfall from her beaming eyes
When two hearts came across
On path of thorn and rose
Sharing the road
A secret that once passed through
Her lips now cold and blue
"It is the end of world
If I must stay without you"

Higher than angels the death takes our hearts
No moment to waste, now fall to my arms

Wish us mercy
Wish us peace
Wish us love
Wish us release
