

Forty Foot Echo, Multiply

Take a breath, take a lifetime to multiply
It's just an ordinary day
Got to move, got to try, time to simplify
Now that your time has come today

And I dont mind, if you're around me
And I dont care

Take it in, there's a price
Can we justify, what we can follow down today
Got to move, got to try, can we diplify
As we change our ways

You wont see it, if you dont believe it
Is your time so far away
You can't see it
Is your time so far away

There's a breath, there's a life can we multiply
Its just an ordinary day
Got to move break the cycle of modern life
As we fade away

You wont see it, if you dont believe it
Is your time so far away
You cant see it
Is your time so far away

We are watchin over me
Why cant I take it so passionately
I can run, I can see
Watchin' it fall from me

You wont see it, if you dont believe it
Is your time so far away
You cant see it
Is your time so far away