Frank Ocean, Eyes Like Sky

Oh yeah

A blind boy sees a green girl She drives a green car through a dream world She meets up with a green club And talks of saving the earth from itself A blind boy saw a blue man Who rides a blue bus through a nightmare He leaves word to a blue home But the blue seems different since she's passed away And the same boy with sunken eyes saw me And described yellow so perfectly

Said he's Watching, Watching, Watching With eyes like sky Eyes like I've never seen

A blind boy became a kind man Who painted white lights on a canvas He once said he didn't write songs Cause making music would be selfish And back then he saw the flags fly Seen them fight and divide for it He said war is for those who foresee it But what good is border to me yeah, yeah And the same man with sunken eyes saw me And described yellow so perfectly

Said he's Watching, Watching, Watching With eyes like sky Eyes like I've never seen

I said "I wish you could see the ocean" He said "I wish you could see hope" I said "have you ever seen the mountain?" He said "no, but my faith could move those" Ohhh woah I said "I wish you could see the stars" He told me I should see love Love Oh yeah

Said he's Watching, Watching, Watching With eyes like sky Eyes like I've never seen