

Freddie Hart, You Plus Him Minus Me

(It's always you plus him minus me)
I'm not an educated man oh but I know just where I stand
It don't take a mess to mind to count to three
Oh he comes first in everything I'm just a fool who bought the ring
It's always you plus him minus me
And I should hate you oh but I love you and I just can't blame a man
For stealing a little piece of heaven if he can
My heart lives down on its knees and I keep dying by degrees
Because of you plus him minus me

If I could just may wash my heart try to make a brand new start
Make believe is just a dream of fantasy
But when I'm kissing holding you your love for me just don't come true
It's always you plus him minus me
And I should hate you oh but I love you and I just can't blame a man
For stealing a little piece of heaven if he can
My heart lives on bended knees and I keep dying by degrees
Because of you plus him minus me
