

Freya, You Belong To Me

You Belong To Me

Music & lyrics: Freya

I hope that it's a bad dream
- a nightmare, fast asleep in my bed
I hope that I'll wake up to realise
That it's all in my head, oh

I try to distract myself
Junk TV, bad movies
The thought of you lingers
I'm burning up, panicking
I pinch myself trying to convince myself that you

You belong to me - nobody else
How can I make you see?
You belong to me - don't you, baby?
You belong to me (and) you always will
How can I make you see?
You belong to me - you sure do
I only need to convince you

I truly want the truth
- honestly, but how much truth can I bear
Red wine makes us spill our thoughts
But it hurts when you share
I pinch myself trying to convince myself that you

You belong to me - nobody else
How can I make you see?
You belong to me - don't you, baby?
You belong to me (and) you always will
How can I make you see?
You belong to me - you sure do
I only need to convince you, oh, hey
Don't you know, you ...

You belong to me - nobody else
How can I make you see?
You belong to me - don't you, baby?
You belong to me you always will
How can I make you see?
You belong to me - you sure do
I only need to convince you, convince you
