

From Zero, Suffering

Chance, just one more chance at what you pride
Reasons will never let you hide
That's not considering it's all the same
Time, glimpsing the moment in my eyes
Pushing me harder than you try
Just cause, you've given me what I should hate
I lost myself to you
Now I can't see so clearly
Now my decisions they bring me confusion
My only solution to rid them is throw you away
As this time goes passing by
I see myself surrounded by a place in pain
It's the world I see who's suffering
Yes we're suffering
Taste, tasting a bit of what you crave
Destined to never come your way
All sensibility has gone away
Rage, constantly flowing through my veins
A victim of disparity is what you gain
I lost myself to you
Now I can't see so clearly
Now my decisions they bring me confusion
My only solution to rid them is throw you away
As this time goes passing by
I see myself surrounded by a place in pain
It's the world I see who's suffering
Yes we're suffering
Endless days won't last forever
See myself held back inside
This painful wall would you set me free
Cause I'm suffering yes I'm suffering
Well I gotta get out
Your running away caught ya steeling one time
Picking up pieces you thought were all right
Don't like the feeling with the top rolled down, no
Now your piecing together what you think is life
Rage has not seen what is seen through my eyes
Don't like the feeling with the top rolled down
You'll hat the feeling so here's where you fall on your face
We're Suffering
