

Futuristic Sex Robotz, Law & Order

In the entertainment industry's war on its customers, the CEOs of media conglomerates are represented by the Motion Picture Association of America (the MPAA), who believes their shitty copy protection works. And the Recording Industry Association of America (the RIAA), who sues children. These are their stories.