Gabrielle, Alone

Too many times You let me down when I needed you You could not be found So I picked up the pieces And tried to mend my broken heart Then you'd reappear Always acting like nothing was wrong Everything's just fine Want us ot get back together Get back into my life Cos I don't mind where you go Please don't come around Or call this your home Cos I don't where you go As long as you're not here Baby Baby Babe What did you think I'd say That I'd take you back again Oh baby I've changed Now you say You can't believe it How can I close the doors on you Could it be that you're forgotten That you treated me so cruel You made your choice Cos you stayed away For much too long Now it's way too late Did you want me to sit around and wait Like I've always done Cos I don't mind... Baby Baby Babe... You've always got what you wanted You knew I'd always oblige I'd always keep the door open Waiting for you to decide Cos too many times You've let me down When I needed you You could not be found So I picked up the pieces

Tried to mend my broken heart

Cos I don't mind....
