

Garret, Maya

Who can see what is hidden behind the fence
Who will tear off the blinds and bring some sense
Into this world that became a threat to men
Where even prejudice can be blessed with amen?
Save all that you might need
Leave all that feeds your greed
Lift your eyes from the cave
It is the grave
To those that live in vain
We blame the leaders weve put in charge
The same that teach our children how to march
The same that claim their majesty
And keeps us harmless spreading their prolixity
Save all that you might need
Leave all that feeds your greed
If its love that you bring
Than let us sing
And rise above the sins
