Gazpacho, Black Lily

Can you hear me, I know you're all alone Swim to me, this island on the endings That grow the rocks were lost tides again Hear the bells, in deep hallow dungeons In deep green seas The pressure is from within

Struck down in the middle of a little life Star spangled by the wayside As the trains roll by

Phantom pains and morphine Isn't that enough? Leaving cannot heal you First try it with a kiss

All your troubles, small battles, So tired on your eyes came Black lily I just want to make you, make you Laugh again

In that deep hallow dungeons Gloriously walk A pilgrim of valium It's cold on this cloud

Struck down in the middle of a little life Star spangled by the wayside As the trains roll by Mercy, what can you do? Try to be a saint? Leaving cannot heal you First try it with a kiss
