

Geri Halliwell, Take Me Home

There's no place I call home, there's no way in a mean street,
There's no high, low or medium, there's no little be.
So do your searching, until you're down, then realise, you're on your home ground
(echo off)

Sitting in a white room, dreaming of a life, (emma)
You have got me thinking, what is paradise. (emma)
Should I take an ocean drive, cooling from the sun, (emma)
Silver screen got me thinkin' this is how it should be done. (emma)
Take me home, there's no place I'd a rather be now, yeah,
Take me home, there's no place I'd a rather be now, yeah.
Stand together alone, not knowing who you are, (emma)
Friendly strangely strangely friendly, would you keep me warm? (emma)
Would you keep me warm? you now, you could be your paradise,
Talk and keep me warm (emma), you could have your own dream life,
Step into your comfort side, comfort side.
Take me home, there's no place I'd a rather be now, yeah,

Take me home, there's no place I'd a rather be now, yeah.
(echo next 4 lines in background (emma))
There nobody to take me home, cause I'm here, yes where I belong,
I'm nearly, cause I'm on my way, at my home it will always stay.
There nobody to take me home, cause I'm here, yes where I belong,
I'm nearly, cause I'm on my way, at my home it will always stay.
So all that's free falling falls, hangs, out of time,
You've got yours, I've got mine, should all this be so precious?
Maybe I should be a little humble? slate of fear, cause I could stumble.
So do your searching until your down, cause your on home ground.
(echo off)
(continuous echo: take take take take me home, take take take me home..(emma))
Take me home, there's no place I'd a rather be now, yeah
Take me home, there's no place I'd a rather be now, yeah
(repeat last 2 lines x3 and fade)
