

Ginny Owens, Something More

I've spent half my lifetime watching time go by and wondering where it went
And when I try to fall asleep at night, I lay there feeling spent Contemplating what the next day's gonna hold for me
Tossin' turnin', my mind is churnin', thoughts won't let me be

Every morning meets me with a list of all I have to do
And every evening greets me with the knowledge that I'm never through Every taste of success makes me vow to never fail
Feels like I just chase my tail

There's gotta be something more than running circles for a living
Gotta be something better than just trying to survive
Gotta be some important puzzle piece that I am missing
Gotta be something more to life

If every picture tells a story, mine must be a mystery
'Cause I lose sight of who I am and who I am supposed to be Looking back on what I've built and all that I've achieved
Only leads me to believe, yeah

There's gotta be something more than running circles for a living
Gotta be something better than just trying to survive
Gotta be some important puzzle piece that I am missing
Gotta be something more to life

Tired of these hopeless places
Bored with my earthly things
So I must fill my empty spaces
With the love that heaven brings

There's gotta be something more than running circles for a living
Gotta be something better than just trying to survive
Gotta be some important puzzle piece that I am missing
Gotta be something more

Gotta be something more than running circles for a living
Gotta be something better than just trying to survive
Gotta be some important puzzle piece that I am missing
Gotta be something more to life
