

Gojira, Sphinx

Call upon the wise one to remember the chords
The truth buried alive since the dawn of time
Was it all for nothing?
Great watcher of the soul
Rid the world of its blindfold,
Make us real again
Carved in limestone
That's all there is, facing the lion
Become one
You stand still, the voice of silence
Remain one

Express your will, you will be rewarded
For all thoughts become reality
May we learn from the old one
Standing tall in the sand
Witness erosion
The rise and fall of men
Carved in limestone
That's all there is
Facing the lion
Become one

You stand still
The voice of silence
Remain one
Become one

The savior has arrived
The savior has a name
Carved in limestone
You become one
Facing the lion
You become one
