

Golden Earring, Angelina

From the Album:

* On the double

Angelina, why are you lying there and not playing with your blond curling hair
I hear no music, I see no light
I even see no light in your eyes, your eyes open wide
Staring at me, strange as never before
Is this what you meant, when I shut the door
Oh my God, why did you do this to me
I'm back my love, I couldn't be free
Angelina, it's me my love
Finally found out I can't live without your love
Angelina, and your name echoes in the air
Then silence all around, everything's so rare
As if the world exists no more
My world has been destroyed when I shut the door and while you're lying down Angelina
I kiss your lips and I caress your hair
Oh my God, why did you do this to me
I'm back my love, I couldn't be free
Angelina, It's me my love
Finally found out I can't live without your love
