

Goldie Hill, Twice As Blue

Twice as blue without you I'm just twice as blue today
You didn't treat me right so I thought I might as well just go away
Oh perhaps I could forget you but no matter what I'd do
Seems that I still find you on my mind and now I'm twice as blue
I said who was true what else could I do you made my life so sad
But I know through today I'd take you any old way and I feel just half this bad
Cause I'm twice as blue without you as I never was before
Now I knew you'd win cause here I am again a knocking at your door
( guitar )
I said who was true...
A knocking at your door
