

Gothminister, Shadows Of Evil Sins

In the Shadows Of Evil Sins cries a little Child
She is drawing forbidden things from the dark side of her mind
She belongs to a different world, a world that is filled with Love
Nothing could ever make her sleep cause soon she'll have to go---
AWAY!!

In the Shadows Of Evil Sins cries a little Child
She is waiting for the magic friends
When will they take her to the other side?
They told her not to be afraid of the beasts under her bed
They have become The Rolling Friends living inside of her head

In the Shadows Of Evil Sins cries a little Child
She is dreaming of her world and still her eyes are open wide
She would dive into the open arms of her Mentor with a cane
Although she knows she will leave anyway this will be the day
