

Grace VanderWaal, I don't like you here we go again in the same story we followed love and typical we say: I am sorry!

Hands are shaking till I just look down at the floor face is turning red and eyes are growing puffy you ask me why I've been yelling and I come up with nothing your insecurities are pulling you back but please know

I love you, but I don't like you the simple truth is I can't do this, though I try to I love you, but I don't like you and I can't shut you out so I am shutting my mouth but I'll never despise you I just don't like you you've been looking at the few past month but just trying to talk about lunch and every single thing you say is gonna stay with you, oh, oh, oh and I am exhausted from us talking through our friends and when you said: I don't care for you, it got worse we both know it isn't working but I still put you first cause I love you, but I don't like you

the simple truth is I can't do this, though I try to I love you, but I don't like you
and I can't shut you out
but I'll never despise you I just think

we both refuse to lose
we both refuse to choose the higher road which will we go
we both refuse to lose

the simple truth is I can't do this, though I try to I love you, but I don't like you
and I can't shut you out
but I'll never despise you
I just think
