Grace VanderWaal, The Good Just Gets Better

You think that you know everything to know about the world But let me tell you now, you're just a little girl There's much more to come, you can't give up now College exams and high school boyfriends Just getting by for the rest

So we'll take it one step at a time Don't be nervous, you will be fine We'll get through this together, you and me So we'll take it one step at a time Don't be nervous, you will be fine We'll get through this together, you and me

Cause I believe you can So please, just take my hand And we will get through this together Cause the good just gets better

Sure your rough days and your heartbreaks But icecream is the best medicine for mistakes

So we'll take it one step at a time Don't be nervous, you will be fine We'll get through this together, you and me So we'll take it one step at a time Don't be nervous, you will be fine We'll get through this together, you and me

Cause I believe you can So please, just take my hand And we will get through this life together Because the good

So keep pushing through it, you can do it We will find a way how Hours into seconds, seconds So please just make every one of them count

So we'll take it one step at a time Don't be nervous, you will be fine We'll get through this together, you and me So we'll take it one step at a time Don't be nervous, you will be fine We'll get through this together, you and me

Cause I believe you can So please, just take my hand And we will get through this life together Because the good just gets better
