

Grandaddy, Getting Jipped

Come on mama go home to your cop
You made us all feel weird, you should just stop
As soon as he takes off you appear
With your one year old and a half can of flat beer

You brought into the fact that believing in something is a lot of shit
Well that's unfortunate
I guess you're getting jipped
You brought into the light that the truth don't apply to you and never did
Well that's unfortunate
I guess you're getting jipped

Well I got skipoles and a mama horse
And you're all pills all weird wearing gym shorts
And my horse and I are gonna find your man
And let him know he's got a fucking freak on his hands

You brought into the fact that believing in something is a lot of shit
Well that's unfortunate
I guess you're getting jipped
Yeah you brought into the light that the truth don't apply to you and never did
Well that's unfortunate
I guess you're getting jipped
I guess you're getting jipped
I guess you're getting jipped
I guess you're getting jipped
