Grandaddy, Ghost Of 1672

There's a ghost And you're its host But you're never gonna know Those oven radar ranges and electric things That can change egg yolks and bread into French toast All the things that he hopes that you're gonna use most

All the brighted littly lighted technological advances
That he never got the chance to use when he was one of you
Back in seventy two
Sixteen seventy two
Makes him go boo-hoo
Makes him go boo
