

grandson, Half My Heart

I Don't know why I'm running away
If I end up back at the start
With half of my heart
Take a good thing
Throw it away
And I end up Back at the start
With half of my heart
Yeah
Another moment passed look at how
We've all grown up fast
Think about it and I get whiplash
Think about it and I get whiplash
Keep moving don't know what towards
Not the same as it was before
Dunno how I'm gonna take much more
Dunno how I'm gonna take much more
I Made you cry
Hang up quick because I hate goodbye
Chasing what's on the other side
Chasing what's on the other side
Maybe someday this will all make sense
But for now
But for now
I Don't know
why I'm running away
If I end up back at the start
With half of my heart
Take a good thing
Throw it away
And I end up Back at the start
With half of my heart
You ask
why I'm running I've got
nothing to say
I Don't know why I'm running away
If I end up back at the start
With half of my heart
This life ain't fair
And It's more fun to be unaware
For Tomorrow I'm not prepared
For tomorrow I'm not prepared
I don't learn
Repeat the habit it just don't work
Trust the feeling I still get burned
Trust the feeling I still get burned
So I run
I can't face that I've come undone
But I'll be back with the setting sun
I'll be back with the setting Sun
Maybe someday
This will all make sense
But for now
Don't know why I'm running away
If I end up back at the start
With half of my heart
Take a good thing
Throw it away
And I end up Back at the start
With half of my heart
You ask
why I'm running

I've got
nothing to say
I Don't know why I'm running away
If I end up back at the start
With half of my heart
Half half of my heart
Half half of my heart
Half half of my heart
Half half of my heart
Half half of my heart
Half half of my heart