

Grey, On A Cross Nailed To Your Heart

Burning sands, burning suns. Parched lips grasp to be quenched by love.
Ivory tower, ivory steps lead up. Red walls chain me to your masonry of love.

Move me now, move me now. On a cross nailed to your heart.
Please me now, please me now. On a cross nailed to your heart.
Leave me now, leave me now. On a cross nailed to your heart.

Tears fall, tears reign. tears of love resist being wiped away.
Fool of trust, fool of love. For you, nothing I can't do.

And when I think it's over, she laughs and says it's just beginning to take. So lay back, be sober, she says, let us see what we can make.
Yes you're in my heart, in my heart.
Yes you're in my heart to stay.

Nervous talk, nervous touch. So afraid I won't be perfect enough.
Walk so far, walk so close. Hope it lasts for tomorrow never knows
