

Guided By Voices, Long Distance Man

(R. Pollard)

He's a long distance man and he keeps on going because its not worth blowing and he does what he can because it not worth losing and there ain't no choosin

Any other world that you live in don't believe in second chance Sell another dream he won't take it so don't fake it when you dance

Cover up your eyes in these bad times for the sad times passing years build another tower for your freedom he don't need them shed no tears.
for the long distance man.....
