

Guy Sebastian, Beautiful Freind

A million hearts are hurting 'cause they love you
Close your eyes and feel their arms around you now
And baby just like me I'm sure they're thinking of you
But I know somehow, this will all work out

I sat upon the roof and stared the stars out
For a reason why or something I could do
Everything that mattered yesterday's so far now
Away from you
And what you're going through, baby

Chorus:

But just you hold on girl (You gotta get through this)
And try to be strong girl (You know you can do this)
'Cause baby love will conquer all
And it wont be long before
You'll be dancing in the rain again
My beautiful friend
My beautiful friend

If you ever feel there's no strength left inside you
Just know I'm by your side and holding your hand tight
Sometimes the moon is all the light you need to guide you
Through the darkest night
Let me be the light

Chorus:

But just you hold on girl (You gotta get through this)
And try to be strong girl (You know you can do this)
'Cause baby love will conquer all
And it wont be long before
You'll be dancing in the rain again

The desert soon will turn to bloom, you'll start to feel a change in you
The sky will seem a deeper blue than it ever was before
A whole new world will open up
As you stand face to face with love
And though i can't imagine how
You'll be more beautiful than you are now

(You gotta get through this)
Don't you be afraid girl just hold on (You know you can do this)
The only thing I'm sure of is that love will conquer all
And it won't be long before
You'll be dancing in the rain again
Won't you save me one dance with you then
My beautiful friend
My beautiful friend
