Halsey, You Should Be Sad

I wanna start this out and say I gotta get it off my chest got no anger got no malice just a little bit of regret now nobody else will tell you so there's some things I gotta say gonna jot it down and then get it out and then I will be on the way

no you're not half the man you think that you are
and you can't fill the hole inside of you with money , drugs and cars
cause you can't love nothing unless there's something in it for you

oh I've been so sad
I feel so sad
I tried to help you
it just made you mad
and I had no warnings
about who you are just glad I made it out without breaking down
and then ran so fucking far that you would never ever touch me again won't see your alligator tears cause , no, I've had enough of them let me start this off by saying I really meant well from the start take a broken man right in my hands and then put back all his parts but you're not the man you think that you are

with money, girls and cars

hey /4x

'cause you're not half the man

you should be
