

Hangnail, Wrong Is Wrong

Did you ever sneak outside when you weren't supposed to?
Did you do those things
you said you probably never would do?
We've all told white lies
and we've not been found out.
Doesn't make a difference
when your conscience givin' you doubt.

CHORUS:

When do we draw the line?
To say wrong is wrong and nothing's in between.
When did they take the line, away?
'Cause wrong is wrong and nothing's in between.

The things we often say
to make it seem ok.
When the possibilities
are right there wearing you down.
No matter who you are or what you've done so far it's your responsibility our choice makes us who we are
