

Hank Thompson, Honky Tonk Girl

Don't be fool by big blue eyes by a smile or a golden curle
Cause she'll love you now and then break every vow
Cause she's just a honky tonk girl

Don't be fool by kisses or arms that hold you tight
There will be another in her arms tomorrow night
Hearts to her are toy tops she likes to watch 'em whirl
Cause she's just a honky tonk girl

You can never change her ways though you give her all the world
She's got more than one or two and each day there's someone new
Cause she's just a honky tonk girl

Breaking hearts to her is just the way of having fun
She thinks every man's a fool and you're another one
She knows all the arts of love she'll give your heart a whirl
Cause she's just a honky tonk girl
