

Hank Williams Jr., Time To Sing

The waters of a river flow down stream sometimes stand still
And it makes its own way through this world and the road is all down hill
But no man ever knows what his life will bring
But he'll get where he's goin' if he finds a time to sing
A time to sing a song of his love a time to sing of what he's dreamin' of Maybe over the next hill the grass is green
But rocky road gets smoother if he finds a time to sing

And no man should stay in the way of another's dream
And no one should stop someone to find a time to sing
A time to sing a song...
Finds a time to sing finds a time to sing
