Hans York, California Waltz

(Hans York)

I was dancing the California Waltz lazy, lush, and loose and I remember feeling everything is fine We can take our time Leave the past behind wide open space

When I see you, dancing here with me I look in your eyes and I start dreaming, feeling we've been here before keep the memory you and me in three California Waltz California calls

I hear talking, wind begins to play clouds are drifting by we keep on turning, learning the California Waltz round and round it goes water overflows one heartbeat away California, I'm on my way